Birth day, birthday, who's got the birthday?

Oh, she's not so bad. That space alien in the cape has turned her head, is all.

When I decided to be born in February, I must not have realized I'd own a motorcycle. Winter storms play hell with...

Too soon?

Is this conversation grounds for workplace harassment? Not my half of it, of course.

The previously-suggested skinned nose would have been easier to explain.

Except I totally did not understand Dad's facial expression.

But then, I never do...

That was one part "You youngsters amuse me, but I'm not allowed to admit it," one part "Do not break my Secret Weapon, young lady," one-half part "It's convenient that they're bonding with their team-mates, but if it causes romantic trubbles down the line, I will be annoyed that you expect me to deal with it," and two parts "I'm hurt that nobody ever invites me on the fun but such is the Loneliness of Command."

You need the secret decoder ring.

Pbthpbthpbth.

Secret Weapon breaks himself, and Dad ought to be grateful that I have a good time following along behind and KrazyGluing him back together. (How many states are you up to, Platypus?)

And I refuse to believe Himself finds us amusing.

I have skated.

Actually, I met my first girlfriend while skating. She gashed open my shin. That was after poodle skirts, but before dirt.
